New European rocketry organization founded

Rocketeers from Germany and Switzerland have founded a new rocketry organization for German-speaking countries. The IMR (Interessengemeinschaft Modellraketen e.V.) will serve model and high power rocketeers in Germany, Austria and Switzerland.

The club offers services such as flight insurance, a newsletter, discounts at selected European dealers, an Internet discussion board and many others.

Another goal of the IMR is to organize launches. On June 7 - 8, the IMR will hold a first public launch weekend at Wetzikon/Switzerland (Zurich area) with model rocketry and high power launches.

In addition, the IMR will display rockets on hobby fairs and works close with the press to promote the hobby. For more information, please visit the IMR website at www.modellraketen.org or contact Oliver Missbach at info@modellraketen.org
